Discussion Session with CFOs on the Revised BCR Criteria

The Evaluation Committee, a joint sub-committee of The Institute of Chartered Accountants of Pakistan (ICAP) and Institute of Cost and Management Accountants of Pakistan (ICMAP) organised a discussion session on the Revised BCR Criteria with CFOs, on September 29, 2018 at ICAP House, Karachi. It was attended by around 80 CFOs and fund managers.

Naveed Abdul Hameed, manager Procurement Pakistan International Container Terminal Limited, made a comprehensive presentation on ‘How it differs from <IR> and Sustainability Reporting.’ He explained how the Revised Criteria would pave way transforming the traditional corporate reporting into the Integrated Reporting <IR>.

Abdul Rahim Suriya, chairman Evaluation Committee, a joint sub-committee of ICAP and ICMAP, in his presentation covered the key changes made in the revised Criteria of 2018 and the evolution of the Evaluation Criteria over the period of 18 years since the launch of Best Corporate Report (BCR) Awards in 2000. The main objective is to promote corporate accountability and transparency through the publication of timely, factual and reader friendly information. He said that the criteria focuses on the content element (Disclosures) as the starting point for encouraging companies to understand and adopt Integrated Reporting. Further, for two other elements of <IR> i.e. Guiding Principles and Fundamental Concepts, he informed that these would be addressed by adding a narrative guidance as a supplement to the Criteria and the objective evaluation would be covered through independent assurance.

The Criteria for BCR has been derived from:
- Content Elements of the <IR> Framework.
- IASB’s Practice Statement Management Commentary.
- ISA 720, ‘The Auditor’s Responsibilities Relating to Other Information.’
- Best practices around the world for corporate reporting.
- Specific disclosure requirements of local laws and regulations.

The contents of the BCR Criteria consists of:

Further, he highlighted some key additions in the Criteria, as follows:
- Qualitative assessment of annual reports.
- Timeliness for authorisation is increased now from 30 days to 40 days.
- Unreserved compliance of IFRS.
Summary of the Analyst briefing:

- Analysis of financial statements to cover ratios for Free Cash Flow, Economic Value Added (EVA) and Break-up value of shares including Investment in Related Party at fair/market value.
- Specific disclosures required by the Companies Act 2017 such as Review Report by the chairman of the Board and some additional disclosures in the Directors’ Report vis-a-vis Related Party Transactions and other disclosures as per the Fourth Schedule.

He emphasised that not only listed companies but also Non-Listed Public Interest Companies including Mutual Funds, Public Sector Companies and other Large Size Companies including NPOs should participate for transparency. It is noted that, unfortunately, only one NPO participates i.e. The Citizens Foundation (TCF) for BCR award. Pakistan is a generous country and NPOs usually receive most of the amounts on account of Zakat where transparency is very much desired.

Muhammad Farid Alam, session chairman, summed up the discussions followed by a Q&A session. Responding to a question, he explained that the Criteria does not require disclosure of confidential information, rather, it encourages companies to narrate substance of its achievements and sustainability of the company in the future for the benefit of its stakeholders.

In the end, BCR Committee member, Intisar Usmani presented the vote of thanks.

The Meeting No. 49 was held on August 2, 2018 themed ‘Responsibilities of Independence’ which Toastmaster of the evening, Saba Kausar, elaborated upon in detail.
by touching on issues such as rights awareness, proper fulfillment of duties by each citizen and the cost of the independence we take for granted.

Table Topics Master, TM Mohsin, gave the session another dimension by employing multimedia to present the topics and thus put on an excellent engaging show, evidenced by the fact that almost half the volunteering participants were guests.

Speeches were delivered by TM Shamam, TM Adeel and TM Aneel on topics of ‘Dispelling rampant negativity in society,’ ‘IQ vs. EQ’ and ‘shaping Naya Pakistan.’

TM Aneel achieved a milestone as he completed his Competent Communication Manual and became the fifth member of the Club to have this distinction after DTM Aneeqa Ali, TM Malik Omair, TM Mudassar Ghulam Nabi and TM Faisal Shuja.

The Meeting No. 50 of the club marked the club’s second anniversary and also Pakistan’s Independence day. The president of the club shared a video about the progress achieved by the club. To commemorate the occasion, the club held a Prepared Speech contest. The president described the format in detail before handing over the stage to former club president, TM Faisal Shuja, to chair the contest.

While the judges were deciding on the winners, TM Faisal initiated a fun filled activity between three teams of the existing members. Finally, the judges announced the winners: TM Zeeshan: Second Runner-Up; TM Omair: First Runner-Up and Winner: TM M. Adeel.

The second last act of the meeting was the selection of the best team of toastmasters. Audiences were to judge and vote. Team B led by TM JehanZeb won the competition. TM Safi and DTM Aneeqa were given awards for their tireless efforts in furthering the cause of the club.

The executive committee also organised a Tree Plantation Drive on August 11, 2018 wherein members and their families were invited to play their part as responsible citizens and planted 250 trees. The event was held in response to the pressing issue of global warming and the resulting water scarcity in the country.

Pick and drop facility was arranged for members and snacks and tea was provided post-activity. Little saplings were also given away to participating members to plant then in their own homes. Members not only left with a sense of civic pride, having proactively participated, but with happy kids as well who enjoyed themselves during the day’s events.

Change is inevitable. For many of us, change is the name of the game at work. Most organisations have embraced concepts like continuous improvement and efficiency. They have accepted the challenge of thinking critically about how work is being performed, and by whom.

During change, managers should be aware of others’ behaviours and feelings. They must understand how to approach change, and pay attention to the employees’ personal transition through cycles of change. Managers should aim to be empathetic and help their colleagues move through the change cycles. Rewarding desired behaviours and celebrating successes should be an integral part of every manager’s change management process.

Managers should work to calm employees’ panic and fear and look for the positive aspects of the changes employees are facing. As leaders, it’s crucial that managers diligently and repeatedly share the reasoning for changes in order to enable the employees to look and understand the significance and benefits of change.

As professionals, it is the leaders’ responsibility to learn skills, acquire attributes, and take actions that contribute to successful change. They must get real about the skills managers currently possess and what areas need to develop further. As managers of people, they should evaluate how to lead through change. As change leaders, they must make sure that a change management plan is in place in order to help others along through cycles of change.

Change is constant, and often required to achieve desired results. For optimal success, all should get in tune with how managers and those around them manage change.

Letter From Toronto

With reference to the message dated September 5, 2018 together with link for pdf copy of ICAP Newsletter for September 2018, asking for feedback from members, I, as a senior member since last 46 years, would like to give my feedback as under:

On page 16 of the September Newsletter, activities of UAE Chapter of ICAP members mentioned in news ‘Colours of Independence Day’ in which a senior member Mohammad Nafees, FCA (R-0844) of Dubai briefed the members about the history of UAE Chapter of ICAP members.

Since ‘history’ always takes us into past, in decades and in centuries as well. I, myself, a part of this old history, would like to elaborate this ‘history’ for the information of not only members of UAE Chapter, but other Overseas Chapters as well, which they may find interesting.

In 1983, when there were no Overseas Chapters of ICAP members, one of our senior members, Mohammad Raushan, FCA (R-0471) had initiated a chapter-like forum in UAE under the patronage of embassy of Pakistan, with the name, ‘Pakistan Chartered Accountants Club, Abu Dhabi’ to promote professional and social activities among professionals, and I was one of its founding members.

Twenty-five years ago in 1993, I was elected president of the Club and we continued to promote such activities and spread word about it in the local media as well as Pakistani media.

For the information of all members, I am attaching the scanned images below of ICAP Newsletter, January 1994 Volume 16, No. 1, in which news about Pakistan Chartered Accountants Club of Abu Dhabi was published.

Also attached are a few scanned images of press cuttings of news about the activities of the Club, published in local newspapers of UAE and Pakistan’s widely circulated Urdu daily Jang, etc. some 25 years ago.

The Club functioned for 14/15 years from 1983 to 1996/97, but towards the end, due to government regulation re:forming such a forum, we decided to wind up the Club in its existing status, and the balance of the Club fund was donated in Karachi in equal proportion to ICAP building fund, Edhi Foundation and Ansar Burney Trust. I, myself, while on a visit to Karachi, had paid out this fund by personally visiting respective offices, including ICAP office in Al-Markaz, M. A. Jinnah Road at that time.

Special Note: Now, I am a retired member and settled in Canada. Though I am not a part of the current Management Committee of Canada Chapter of ICAP members, I am still active in the Chapter’s activities and acting as a reporter to get the activities news published in local Canadian newspapers to spread the word about ICAP and its Chapter, and I hope that Publication Committee is aware of this fact.

In March 2018, when ICAP president had visited Canada, the news of reception held in his honour by the Chapter, and the session ‘Meet the President,’ was covered by me for the local newspapers. One such coverage was published in ICAP April 2018 Newsletter.

The purpose of this detailed message is for the information and record of ICAP and members, particularly UAE members, to bring the fact that it was UAE only perhaps, where 35 years ago, when overseas Chapters of members were not existing, senior members including Mohammad Raushan and myself had initiated the chapter-like forum to promote professional and social activities among professionals.
